DECLARATION OF LAUREN LANE

---

I, Lauren Lane declare:

1. I am over 18 years of age and have first-hand knowledge of the facts set forth herein, and if called as a witness could and would testify competently thereto.

2. I have never resided, worked, or operated a business in Ohio. I have never sued anyone in any court in Ohio. I have never registered to vote in Ohio. I have never owned a checking account or paid taxes in Ohio.

3. The only time I recall visiting Ohio was to attend the Secular Student Alliance Conferences in 2011 (as a speaker), 2013 (as a speaker), and 2014 (as an attendee).

4. On June 20, 2016, when Skepticon published the statements at issue in this action on its website, I believed Defendant Richard Carrier was living in the state of California. This belief was based on various documents I had seen over the years including the following:

- A letter from Richard Carrier recommending me for an internship with the Center of Inquiry Internship, including his address in Richmond, California. EXHIBIT A.
- An invoice regarding Dr. Carrier's books with the delivery address as Richmond, California. EXHIBIT B.

- Skepticon 6 Speaker Travel Information Spreadsheet indicating Richard Carrier would be traveling from either Oakland airport or San Francisco Airport.

EXHIBIT C.

- Skepticon Check log indicating a check for Richard Carrier would be sent to him at an address in Richmond, California. EXHIBIT D.
- A spreadsheet of blogs identifying Richard Carrier's location as Oakland, California at page 3, line 5. EXHIBIT E.
- An e-mail trail discussing a letter sent to an incorrect address. The letter from Richard Carrier contains a return address located in Richmond, California.

EXHIBIT F.

5. I did not learn Richard Carrier was living in Ohio until July 14, 2016. Prior to that I believed he was still living in California.

6. Skepticon, like many of the organizations related to the atheist/secular/skeptic communities has strict conduct and harassment policies, which govern writers, speakers, and participants. Skepticon's conduct policy includes a prohibition on "inappropriate physical contact, unwelcome sexual attention, and any other act that may cause harm to oneself or others." The policy also states that "[b]latant instances of racism, sexism, homophobia, or other stereotyping and harmful behaviors should be reported to conference staff immediately. 'Yes' means yes; 'No' means no; and 'Maybe' means no. Please accept no for an answer for any request or activity. You are encouraged to ask for unequivocal consent for all activities during the conference. No touching other people without asking. This includes hands on knees, backs, shoulders—and hugs (ask first!)."

Pursuant to the laws of the United States, I declare under penalty of perjury the foregoing is true and correct.

Letter of Recommendation

15 April 2010

To the selection officer or committee for the Center for Inquiry Internship:

I became acquainted with Lauren Lane two years ago when I was a speaker for Skepticon in 2008 at MSU (Springfield, Missouri) and Lauren was an event organizer. It was so successful it has become a famous annual event. I saw her in action again at Skepticon II in 2009, which was more ambitious and even more successful. I saw Lauren play a vital role in making both events operate with consummate success. Thanks to her and her colleagues, Skepticon III is on track for this November and will be even bigger and better. I watched this experience lead her from a major in art to a passionate interest in pursuing a degree in Nonprofit Administration. She's a full-on convert to the cause.

One of my ongoing complaints with national freethought organizations has been a lack of touch with the modern youth and youth culture and how to get them passionately involved. Lauren is ideally suited to change that. Not only is she a part of that culture and knows it well, she has directly participated in and observed effective campus event and group organization, and understands the methods and importance of generating enthusiasm and retention and continuity in secular campus groups, issues I often discuss with campus event organizers like her, and with her I had many conversations about it. I can honestly say she gave me hope for the future. I've also personally seen her in action and can vouch for the fact that she has natural charisma and is fearless in public and can approach and communicate with anyone. Lauren can also manage complex events well, from stage operations to cocktail parties, and having seen many events badly run, I and other speakers were amazed at how smoothly the Skepticons have operated, despite being entirely conceived, promoted, and run by college students. And as an author I have a particular amazement of my own: every year I bring more books to sell, expecting to return home with unsold stock, and Lauren manages to move every last unit. At no event but hers have I ever sold fifty books in one go. Even her art degree has been an asset in the creation of promotional materials.

It's time the 21st century freethought movement saw a rise in women leaders, with the charm, know-how, passion, and professionalism to get them noticed and influential. Lauren Lane is the most promising candidate I have yet met in my twenty years of involvement in the cause. She would benefit immensely from the experience and connections your internship will provide, more even I expect than other applicants. She has a long term vision, and the talent to realize it. All she needs is broader experience. For all these reasons I strongly recommend Lauren for this position.

The invoice you sent me had this address for you:

SKEPTICON, INC
 710 W Greenwood
 Springfield, MO 65807

But the check I sent to that address was just returned as "no such number / unable to forward."

Is that a misprint? Is there some other address I should send it to?

Not having seen the envelop I couldn't say if it's addressed incorrectly. I literally own the home at 710 W Greenwood, Springfield, MO 65807, so I can assure you that there is an address 710.

We can give you another address, you can try again to 710 W Greenwood, or at this point it may just be easier to make a "donation" through our PayPal account. I'd prefer mailing, since we'd have to pay service charges, but it's busy than nothing.

Thoughts, Lauren?

When they write "no such number" they mean there is no address 710. Is the location marked incorrectly? Or the street name wrong on my envelope? Just changing the name of address won't solve the problem they claim to be having. I want to make sure it gets through. Is there maybe a different address altogether I could try?

On May 27, 2014, at 6:26 PM, Rebekah Elder <rebekah@skepticon.org> wrote:

It is very strange that this envelope would not make it to us when we have never had a problem with anything else (merchandise, sponsorships, etc.) being delivered to this address at any point in the past.

If you like, you can send us the money through paypal to our info@skepticon.org email address or use one of our donate buttons, which might be faster at this point. I think we're all ready to move on and resolve this.

Gmail - Re: Skepticon Mailing Address?

I am starting to lose patience here and am beginning to feel that Skepticon's good nature is being abused.

I'm not sure what you mean. See attached if you are not sure what I mean.

Although looking at it again, I suspect they must have mistook the zero for a nine. I'll see if that's it and try again with a cleaner script.

I'm just trying to get the check to you.

I'm just sick of this whole book situation, I feel like we've been talking about them for an eternityyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyy

P.s. the Zip Code is 65807 not 95807

Hey, you are in the Big Time now, boss. That entails hours and hours of annoying businessy stuff with various vendors and clients and venues and whatnot. The price of success. It will only get worse from here. ;-)

(Although we are nearly done with this laborious action item; nearly...remember, we still have to negotiate a contract for the stock-and-sale for this November...)

Zing! That might be the thing.

Fixed. It will go out tomorrow!

Good news, everyone!

The check was received and deposited, and we shipped the books with a copy of the invoice. I signed off on the invoice to indicate that it was paid in full. (and put it in my new merchandise notebook!) The estimated delivery date is 6/11/14 and your tracking number with FedEx is 780005187974. Due to the contents and their value, we decided to have it held for delivery at the FedEx location closest to you so that you can pick it up at your leisure and we don't have to worry about them sitting in the rain.

The FedEx Office is:
9989 San Pablo
El Cerrito, CA 94530

They'll call you at 510-932-9536 as soon as it's there. I'm told you'll generally have about a week or so to pick it up.

Gmail - Re: Skepticon Mailing Address?

I should ask to be sure, did you send everything in one large box, or was there also a second small box?

Yes, we played some Book Tetris and were able to get everything consolidated into just the one box. I put a copy of the invoice with the count inside the box so it would be easy for you to check everything back into your inventory. Glad everything arrived ok.

Well, there were 51 Sense and Goodness in the box (and the box was indeed packed without remainder), and your inventory said 66.

I'll just count those missing 15 as a loss for my business. If they ever turn up, let me know.
